

ALVIN AILEY AMERICAN DANCE THEATER

Shelter (1988)

(New Production – 2017)

Choreography: Jawole Willa Jo Zollar

Restaging: Masazumi Chaya

Music by: Junior “Gabu” Wedderburn

Costumes by: Terri Cousar

Lighting by: Meg Fox

Raquelle Chavis, Deborah Manning, Danielle Gee in Shelter.
Photo by Jack Mitchell.

Shelter, a passionate statement about the physical and emotional deprivation of homeless people, returns to the Ailey stage 25 years after first being performed by the Company. Set to an inventive score which incorporates poetry by Hattie Gossett and Laurie Carlos, this dramatic work delivers the compelling message that the poverty of individuals will inevitably lead to the destitution of all humanity. It has been called “stunning” by The Washington Times. “Shelter, a picture of near despair among people on the outskirts of society, has the emotional depth, heat and conviction so present in the best of Mr. Ailey’s works.”

“It is an intensely moving and passionate piece for six women...” - New York Post

“Zollar has developed a brutal, but beautiful movement vocabulary to express the strength, anger and power of these women.” - Press-Telegram (Cerritos, CA)

“Zollar’s Shelter is a stunning departure from the Ailey tradition and a superb addition to the Ailey repertory.” - The Boston Herald

Jawole Willa Jo Zollar

From Kansas City, Missouri, Jawole Willa Jo Zollar trained with Joseph Stevenson, a student of the legendary Katherine Dunham. After earning her B.A. in dance from the University of Missouri at Kansas City, she received her M.F.A. in dance from Florida State University. In 1980 Jawole moved to New York City to study with Dianne McIntyre at Sounds in Motion. In 1984, Jawole founded Urban Bush Women (UBW) as a performance ensemble dedicated to exploring the use of cultural expression as a catalyst for social change. In addition to 34 works for UBW, she has created works for Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater, Philadanco, University of Maryland, Virginia Commonwealth University and others. In 2006 Jawole received a New York Dance and Performance Award (Bessie) for her work as choreographer/creator and was designated a Master of Choreography by the John F. Kennedy Performing Arts Center in 2005. As an artist whose work is geared towards building equity and diversity in the arts Jawole was awarded the Arthur L. Johnson Memorial award by Sphinx Music at their inaugural conference on diversity in the arts. In 2013, Jawole received the Doris Duke Performing Artist Award and honorary degrees from Tufts University and Rutgers University. Recently, Jawole received the 2016 Dance Magazine award, the 2016 Dance/USA Honor Award and the 2017 New York Dance and Performance Bessie Award for Lifetime Achievement.

Jawole Willa Jo Zollar.
Photo by Urban Bush Women

Shelter

Text by: Hattie Gossett and Laurie Carlos

“Between a Rock and a Hard Place at the intersection of Reduced Resources and Reverberating Rage” by Hattie Gossett.

“Belongo” by Laurie Carlos.

Endangered Species” drawn from various news sources.

Text read by Jawole Willa Jo Zollar.