

Alvin Ailey Camp: Chicago

August 1, 2019

Using the power of movement, the legendary dance company Alvin Ailey is touching lives of at-risk youth through a six week summer camp. It gives kids a creative outlet to feel good about themselves. Joining us was director of AileyCamp Chicago, Lizette Rayford and a current student in the program, Kristen Roberts.

Come see Kristen and the rest of the Ailey Camp this Friday at the Kehrin Center for the Arts. For more information head to www.alvinailey.org
