

Dance Troupe Tells the Story of Massacre of 300 Black Americans

By: Fedricka Whitfield

June 20, 2020

Watch here: http://archive.tveyes.com/18120/1330032-127443/c4407758-113c-4c71-8b21-b00e8337efeb/CNN\_06-20-2020\_13.49.15.mp4 (5 minutes)

Tulsa's 1921 massacre involved white mobs killing 300 black residents in their uniquely prosperous community. That painful chapter in American history was the focus of the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater this season, before it was sprupt interrupted by covid-19 shutdowns. Now with this renewed attention on the Tulsa massacre, the dance group is streaming its Greenwood story starting this week. Artistic Director Robert Battle discusses Donald Byrd's Greenwood.