Awakening is dedicated to Joan Weill in appreciation of her inspired leadership, wisdom, caring and grace.

Awakening is a work featuring Robert Battle's signature taut, ritualistic choreographic style and a score by American composer John Mackey. Buoyed by the complex rhythmic quality of Mackey's music ("Turning" and "The Attention of Souls," the third movement from the symphony Wine-Dark Sea), a dozen Ailey dancers lead the audience on a cathartic journey in this powerful dance of dissonance and harmony, chaos and resolution. Co-commissioned by the Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts of Miami-Dade County, Awakening is the first world premiere created by Robert Battle since he became Artistic Director and his ninth work to enter the Ailey repertory.

Robert Battle

Robert Battle became artistic director of Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater in July 2011 after being selected by Judith Jamison, making him only the third person to head the Company since it was founded in 1958. A frequent choreographer and artist-in-residence at Ailey since 1999, he has set many of his works on Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater and Ailey II, and at The Ailey School. The Company's current repertory includes his ballets The Hunt, In/Side, Strange Humors, Takademe, and No Longer Silent. In addition to expanding the Ailey repertory with works by artists as diverse as Kyle Abraham, Aszure Barton, Ronald K. Brown, Garth Fagan, Bill T. Jones, Jiří Kylián, Wayne McGregor, Robert Moses, Ohad Naharin, and Paul Taylor, he has also instituted the New Directions Choreography Lab to help nurture the next generation of choreographers. Mr. Battle is committed to using the arts as a vehicle for change and education. In 2015, he introduced No Longer Silent, set to a score that was banned by the Nazis, and premiered on the Ailey Company in conjunction with the 70th anniversary of the end of the Holocaust. Awakening is the ninth work by Mr. Battle to enter the Ailey repertory. Mr. Battle studied at Miami's New World School of the Arts and attended The Juilliard School on scholarship. He danced with the Parsons Dance Company from 1994 to 2001, setting choreography on that company before founding Battleworks Dance Company. Battleworks debuted in 2002 in Düsseldorf, Germany, as the U.S. representative to the World Dance Alliance's Global Assembly. Battleworks subsequently performed at venues around the globe and in the U.S., including The Joyce Theater, Dance Theater Workshop, American Dance Festival, and Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival. Mr. Battle was honored as one of the "Masters of African-American Choreography" by the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in 2005, and he received the prestigious Statue Award from the Princess Grace Foundation-USA in 2007. In 2014, he received an honorary doctorate from The University of the Arts. Most recently, Mr. Battle was named a 2015 Visiting Fellow for The Art of Change, an initiative by the Ford Foundation.

John Mackey

John Mackey (born October 1, 1973) is an American composer, with a focus on classical music for wind band and orchestra. Raised in Westerville, Ohio, Mackey was introduced at a young age to computer music notation and began composing his own music using the technology, though he never formally studied an instrument. After receiving a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the Cleveland Institute of Music in 1995, he moved to New York City where he received a Master of Music degree from Juilliard in 1997. While living in New York, Mackey developed a passion for creating music for modern dance and ballet, collaborating with choreographers such as Robert Battle, David Parsons, Doug Varone, and Igal Perry. And from 1999 to 2003, he served as the Music Director of Parsons Dance Company. Mackey has held residencies at colleges and universities throughout the United States, and his music has been performed all over the world – including at the 2004 Athens Olympics, when the U.S. Olympic Synchronized Swim Team performed to his score "Damn." A two-time recipient of the ABA/Ostwald Prize ("Redline Tango," 2005; "Aurora Awakes," 2009), Mackey currently resides in Cambridge, Massachusetts. The three-part "Wine Dark Sea: Symphony for Band" is his first symphony.
